CHAPLAIN'S REPORT FOR 1865.

To the Right Worshipful the PRESIDENT,
the Worshipful the TREASURER, and the
GOVERNORS of King Edward's Schools.

MY LORDS AND GENTLEMEN,

The time has again arrived when it is my duty to present to you my Annual Report on the state and progress of your Schools.

During the year 1865, there were—

Admitted.				Discharged.
Boys .. ..	77			Boys .. ..	76
Girls .. ..	54			Girls .. ..	55
<hr/>				<hr/>
Total .. ..	131			Total .. ..	131

I am happy to inform you that of the whole number of children admitted, only one, a boy, had been “convicted of crime.”

There were remaining in the Institution on the 31st of December last, 100 boys and 100 girls, making a total of 200 children. The Establishment was therefore at that date, completely full.

The boys and girls who have left us during the year have been disposed of as follows—

Boys.
To the Royal Navy	..	..	..	..	..	28
To the Army	..	..	..	..	..	2
To the Merchant Service	..	..	..	..	..	5
To Situations in Trades	..	..	..	..	..	21
Sent home at request of Friends	..	..	..	..	..	13
Sent home ill	..	..	..	..	..	3
Absconded	..	..	..	..	..	1
Discharged for bad conduct	..	..	..	..	..	3
						<hr/> 76

Girls.
To Situations as Domestic Servants	..	..	..	..	..	47
Sent home at request of Friends	..	..	..	..	..	7
Sent home ill	..	..	..	..	..	1
						<hr/> 55

On the 11th of July the Schools were examined by H. M. Inspector, in the presence of the Treasurer and several other Governors. The following is the official report:—

“ Examined the Schools. Both Schools are in good order, and passed a very fair examination in the ordinary school subjects, the girls being rather forwarder than the boys, doubtless owing to the longer time they remain in the Establishment. The House, which I inspected, appears perfectly clean in all the departments.

“ E. CARLETON TUFNELL,

“ H. M. Inspector of Schools.”

One hundred and fifty-six boys and 32 girls, former inmates of the Schools, attended before the Committee during the year, with certificates of good conduct from their employers, and received the customary reward of £1. each; 44 boys and 14 girls were rewarded for the first time; 59 boys and eight girls for the second time; and 53 boys and 10 girls for the third and last time.

The year has been spent by us in the ordinary discharge of routine duties; and everything has proceeded with such healthy regularity, that there is little or nothing in its history which seems to call for any special remarks from me. Indeed, I have long felt that these Annual Reports, occupied as they are with mere dry details, and with references to little more than statistical statements, have become somewhat monotonous, and contain little of interest to the general reader. At this time, however, I am reminded that ten years have passed away since you first did me the honour to elect me Chaplain of your Schools: and nearly ten years since I undertook the double duties of Chaplain and Superintendent. This, then, seems to me to be a convenient epoch at which to pause and review the general result of my labours, and to notice the important changes that have taken place in the character and objects of the Institution—changes, partly the result of the operation of the new scheme for the regulation of the Charity, which dates from the year 1860, and partly of other causes to which I will presently advert. There is another reason why I should pursue this course on the present occasion. On the 3rd of last March, the first stone of the New School at Witley, near Godalming, Surrey, was laid by our President, with the customary formalities. The Building is rapidly approaching towards completion, and it seems probable that before the present year closes, the boys will have removed to their new abode. This event will necessarily introduce other changes, of which we cannot at present see either the extent or the consequences. I would venture to suggest that before this removal takes place, it may be desirable that the whole of the Rules and Orders of the Institution should be carefully considered and revised, with a view to the improvement of the discipline and general efficiency of the Establishment. Having, at a former period of my professional life, had to organize a new Institution of a similar character to King Edward's Schools, I can foresee that in the planting of our School on a new basis, many difficulties will have to be encountered, and some discouragements are to be expected. But relying on the continuance of that generous confidence and support which I have always received from the Governors hitherto, I have little doubt that we shall be able to meet those difficulties successfully, and that the future history of the Institution will not be written in hues less bright than the past.

You are aware, My Lords and Gentlemen, that about the year 1830, the administration of the Bridewell Charity was divided into two distinct departments: first, the Prison in Bridge Street, Blackfriars, now abolished; and second, the "House of Occupations," otherwise King Edward's Schools, in St. George's fields. For many years this latter was, to all intents and purposes, a reformatory school. In fact, to the Governors of Bridewell Hospital belongs the honour of having been the first to originate that great movement for the reform of the class of juvenile criminals, to which such a vigorous impulse has been given in recent years. Thus I find, by a reference to former reports, that when I became your Chaplain, in the year 1856, nearly one-fourth of the whole number of inmates were convicted criminals; some of them (I speak more particularly of the boys) had been several times in prison; and of the rest there were very few who had not been guilty of acts which would speedily have brought them into the same class. Either orphans and friendless, or the children of thoughtless and improvident parents, who had brought them up in ignorance and idleness, they were totally destitute of all habits of self-restraint; the discipline of the House was exceedingly irksome to them; they were constantly endeavouring to escape, and it was extremely difficult to manage them. The number of Reformatory Schools established about this time in London and elsewhere, began to exercise, however, an important influence upon the nature of the cases brought before the Committee for admission. Gradually the School became more and more an institution rather for destitute than for criminal children, until at length this character was fixed upon it by positive rule. Under the new scheme, except in special cases, criminal children are not to be received; and the proportion of such is limited to one-sixth part of the whole number of inmates. As a matter of fact, even this proportion has never been reached since the scheme came into operation, and at this moment, we have only three children in the House who have been convicted of crime.

I have noticed in former reports, another fact, for which it is not so easy to account, viz.: that the children who now apply for admission are much younger than they were formerly.

For some years after I became your Chaplain, the average age of candidates for admission was fourteen and fifteen. They therefore became qualified for appointments in the Royal Navy, or for situations in trades and domestic service much earlier than they do at present, when their average age on admission is twelve and thirteen. I can only suppose that children are now able to obtain employment more readily than was formerly the case. I feel it necessary to allude to this circumstance, because it has an important bearing upon the number discharged to situations from the School, as well as upon the number of former inmates who present themselves for rewards for good conduct, both of which decrease every year.

I will now refer to the general results of the last ten years' work. From January 1st, 1856, to December 31st, 1865, the total number of children admitted has been 1097 boys, and 556 girls = 1653. The total number discharged, boys, 1108, girls, 565 = 1673. 576 boys have been sent into the Royal Navy, 29 to the Army, 67 to the merchant service, and 148 to situations in trades; total, 820. 391 girls have been sent to situations as domestic servants. So that, of the whole number discharged, no less than 1211 have been permanently provided for in a most satisfactory manner. That these children have kept their situations, and acquitted themselves to the satisfaction of their employers, is evident from the fact, that of the boys, 1043, and of the girls, 243 have, at different times, attended before the Committee to receive rewards for good conduct. This does not, it is true, account for the whole number discharged to situations, because many of them received their rewards for the second and third times. But it must be remembered that many of the boys who have gone to sea have not yet returned to claim their rewards, and there are others, both boys and girls, whose rewards will not be due till some time in the present year. But it does, I submit, establish the fact, that the education given in King Edward's Schools is plain, useful, and sound; that the industrial training and moral discipline imparted is such as to fit its subjects for the after-struggles of life; and that, in a word, our labour has not been "labour in vain." I believe I am justified in saying that there is no Institution of a similar character in the country, which can exhibit results more thoroughly satisfactory.

In concluding this, which I may call my Decennial Report, I would desire first of all reverently and gratefully to acknowledge the Divine care and goodness which has brought me so far on my course and blessed my work. The immunity we have enjoyed from any serious sickness, and the very small number of inmates we have lost by death, evidences the protecting Hand that has been over us. The improved behaviour of the children, their increased and increasing love for the Chapel Services, and, I will hope, the consciousness they possess that they are "so to pass through things temporal as not to lose the things that are eternal," can only be the result of an influence more powerful and effectual than man's. To the Governors of the School I would also tender my best thanks for the constant support and encouragement I have received from them.

I remain,

My Lords and Gentlemen,

Your obedient Servant,

EDWARD RUDGE,

Chaplain and Superintendent.

January 17, 1866.

BETHLEM HOSPITAL.

R E P O R T.

---

To the Right Worshipful the PRESIDENT,
the Worshipful the TREASURER, and the
GOVERNORS of the Royal Hospital of Bethlem.

MY LORDS AND GENTLEMEN,

Owing to the lamented death of Dr. HELPS, your late Resident Physician, it has become my duty to prepare the yearly Report, with the usual statistical tables, which the Rules of the Hospital require should be presented to you.

During the year, 195 patients were admitted, 147 were discharged, and 22 died.

On the 1st day of January, 1866, 277 patients remained on the books of the Hospital, classed in the following order :—

	Males.	Females.	Total.
Curables .. ..	93	124	217
Incurables .. ..	28	31	59
Criminal.. ..	0	1	1

The table of deaths includes the names of several patients who were brought to the Hospital in almost a dying state, and whose condition from the first precluded all reasonable hope of their recovery.

Several suicidal cases have been admitted. One male, with a deep cut from behind the ear to the front of the chin, exposing the sheath of the carotid artery. He has done well, although he required for several weeks most anxious and unremitting watching both night and day, so determined were his efforts to effect his object. One female patient, who was apparently becoming convalescent, destroyed herself. The facts of the case were fully investigated by the Committee at the time, and the Coroner's Jury entirely exonerated the officers and attendants from any blame.

On October 4th, the Institution sustained a serious loss in the death of the Rev. C. PARSONS HOBBS, Chaplain, who, by his gentle and amiable conduct, had endeared himself to all the officers and inmates.

I feel that it will be unnecessary for me to allude further to the death of Dr. HELPS, which took place on November 7th. His good qualities were well known to all the Governors; and I will only record my own sincere regret at the loss of an esteemed and valued friend and colleague.

I am glad to state that the gloom cast over the Institution by the deaths of these two beloved officers is passing away, and that the general routine as regards treatment, exercise, and amusements, has been continued as in past years.

Two Medical Students, appointed by the Committee, came into residence on November 1st.

The Criminal Buildings have been removed, and alterations suggested for improving the lower galleries, assimilating them as far as possible to the others.

In conclusion, I beg sincerely to thank the President, Treasurer, and other Members of the Committee, for the kindness I have received from them during the trying circumstances of the last few months.

I desire also to express my gratitude to the other Officers of the Hospital, who, by their ready and efficient co-operation, have so much lightened my labours.

I have the honour to be,

My Lords and Gentlemen,

Your very obedient Servant,

W. RHYS WILLIAMS, M.D.
